Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Brief History of the Newark Academy: 1774-1792-1916 For the celebration of the Centennial of the founding of the Newark Academy in 1892, Mr. William R. Weeks, at that time President of the Alumni Association, prepared a sketch of the history of the Academy, in regard to which he had for a long time been collecting data. My father, Dr. Samuel A. Farrand, for many years had been investigating the early records and gathering material for a history of the school, two chapters of which had been completed at the time of his death in 1908. The present sketch makes no pretense to originality. It is based on the investigations of Dr. Farrand and Mr. Weeks, and in compiling it free use has been made of the materials gathered by them. In some cases I have not hesitated to use their words. It is my desire and intention, at some time in the not very remote future, to make this brief sketch the basis of a more complete and adequate history. The true history of the Academy, however, and the best record of its achievement is to be found in the list of the able and worthy men, whom for a century and a quarter it has been training and sending out to act as leaders in the civic and intellectual life of the community.
