INTERACTIVE VISUALIZATION OF COMPLEX STRUCTURES IN MODULAR MODELS FOR SYSTEMS BIOLOGY

35

Shaker Verlag Sep 2012, 2012. Buch. Book Condition: Neu. 208x146x17 mm. Neuware - In recent years, the modeling of reaction systems has tended to become more complex. Especially in systems biology researchers are faced with network models growing in size, complexity and scope that become hard to understand and navigate. The hierarchical and modular decomposition of such models (which results in modular models) and their consequent visualization can help to manage and understand them. In particular, visual representations allow researchers...
